

Response to Ros Poplar's Commentary of October 28, 2020

A Manichean Choice

After reading Ros Poplar's commentary of October 28, 2020, I support Mr. Poplar's analysis and he is NOT known to be a liar! Anyone who refers otherwise is making an unwarranted condemnation. No matter who Mr. Poplar supports it is with candid respect for candidates. News events have publicized how the Democratic Party instigates and supports violence in major cities through the Black Lives Matter (BLM) or the Antifa demonstrations. I don't see them as protests; marauding, assaulting, setting buildings and property on fire, is beyond protest. It is violence and illegal! Under present democratic leadership in major cities, and Democratic Presidential candidate Joseph Biden, and his V.P. running mate, Kamala Harris, this behavior is allowed to continue and gain momentum.

Look at the Conservative Post to see how liberal opposition supports the violence surrounding these protests and the re-election of Trump. Read: "Here are 10 Times Democrats Called for Violence against Trump and Republicans since Election Day" by RRC in the Conservative Post.

<https://conservativepost.com/here-are-10-times-democrats-called-for-violence-against-trump-and-republicans-since-election-day/> Another example is for one to read the July 2, 2020 article in The Federalist by Jonah Gottschalk, "Democrats Block Resolution Condemning Mob Violence." <https://thefederalist.com/2020/06/12/poll-defunding-the-police-is-now-a-majority-position-for-democrats/> I think I can safely say, that I rest my case, and that of Mr. Poplar!

Deborah McCormick
Fort Valley, VA